BYRON'S BY—LINE

Byron Johnson

The TAMS meetings at the Boston ANA Convention are just over and I have to rush to meet our editorial deadline. I'm going to give you a quick rundown on what transpired since most of the convention report will be in the December issue of the Journal.

First, it was the largest ANA Convention to date with about 14,000 in attendance. It was a pleasure meeting so many of you and I appreciate your coming up and introducing yourself. Many of you had suggestions to make to improve TAMS and we are going to implement some of them.

At the TAMS Board meeting our Secretary reported a ten percent gain in TAMS membership for which we are grateful. Our Treasurer reported that even with more pages in the Journal and with our bonus issues we only went in the red about $350 or so. This loss was easily met with our assets. Our Journal editor reported that we will have two bonus issues again next year with the first one scheduled for June 1974. We do have a need though for more articles and members are invited to submit articles for publication.

Our election procedure committee submitted detailed plans for conducting next year's TAMS elections by mail. Complete details will be published in the next issue with the call for nominations for election to start in the December issue also. In the future we will not stagger the terms of board members so next year we will elect a President, Vice-Presidents, and ten board members. The newly elected Board will then appoint a Secretary, Treasurer, and Journal Editor. For a member's name to appear on the ballot, he or she will need ten nominations by members in good standing. Biographies of the candidates will appear in the June issue prior to the mail ballot.

Other by-law changes were made. The age requirement for membership was lowered to twelve years of age. One pertinent reason was that the new Scouting Merit Badge requirements will allow Scouts to prove competence by collecting tokens or medals in place of the present coins only standard. Only members eighteen years of age or older will be allowed to hold office however. Members 12 to 17 will hold every other right of membership. Another change was to delete the three year membership requirement for life member applications. We also clarified dealer membership. Non-profit dealer organizations may be members but business house memberships must be in an individuals name who is responsible for the business house.

Provision was made for storage of back issues of the Journal. Those members wishing to complete prior years of the Journal are asked to lighten our storage load by ordering back issues from the Secretary.

Our Junior member committee recommended and the board approved that TAMS again next year sponsor a scholarship to a deserving Junior collector to the ANA Summer Seminar in Colorado Springs.

Our Budget Committee made recommendations for increasing the return on our investments and limiting spending. This increase will put us firmly in the black for the next year.

On to the General Meeting — the five board members elected at this years convention are Ray Byrne, Maurice Gould, Gordon Greene, Ben Odesser, and Arlie Slabaugh. Their terms are for one year because of our by-law change to a mail election next year. I congratulate them on their election and promise to put them to work.

A resolution was passed requesting dealers to make every effort to be accomodating to young collectors who cannot afford rare items but who will be in the future the ones we pass our collections on to.

On to the TAMS Luncheon. Congratulations to our Librarian, Irene Alexander, the winner of the TAMS Medal of Merit. And congratulations to David Gladfelter, the winner of the Gold Segel Literary Award medal for his fine article on the Iron and Glass Works Tokens of New Jersey, which appeared on page 3 of the February 1972 TAMS Journal.

At the TAMS Luncheon, book editor Neil Harris announced that TAMS will help to finance research into the National Archives and Mint records to catalog every medal struck in the Mint, both public and private, thru December 31, 1899. It is hoped that this research will be completed by the end of 1975. Robert Julian is to be the researcher. I am quite excited about this vast project and will keep you informed of it's progress.

I want to personally thank here, our Secretary, Dorothy Baber, who arranged all the TAMS meetings, helped prepare the meeting agendas, and who remembered all the things I forgot.

And finally in closing, sincere congratulations to the gal that keeps our organization together through her editorship of the TAMS Journal, Virginia Culver, the newly elected President of the American Numismatic Association. We are pleased to share with ANA one of our hardest workers. Congratulations, Virginia.

THE T. C. POWER TOKENS

Donald M. Stewart, TAMS # 176

OFFICE OF

T. C. POWER & BRO.,

FORWARDING & COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

MILITARY AND INDIAN TRADERS,

FORT BENTON, M. T.

A letterhead used by T. C. Power & Bro. in the 1870's describes their business as "Military and Indian Traders." Unquestionably, the illustrated tokens fall into that rare series of "Post Trader" tokens described by J. J. Curto as used in the West from 1876 to 1888. (1) Both tokens are uniface and measure 35 mm., but the 50 is struck in brass and the 100 in copper. It is not known whether other denominations were issued, although it is likely that a 25¢ token was also used. The tokens were used to advance credit to the soldiers attached to the Fort, but could also be used in payment for produce or skins traded to T.C. Power by the settlers and Indians.

Thomas C. Power was born in Iowa in 1840 and received his schooling there. Later he served as a civilian with Sully's Command in 1864. It has been reported that Power became acquainted with Joseph Field, the brother of Chicago merchant Marshall Field, who helped him to arrange the credit for a trading venture on the western frontier. (2) Power arrived by steamboat from St. Louis in June, 1867 and began trading out of Fort Benton that summer. His first major profits were made in lively trade with the Gros Ventres, Blood andBlackfoot Indians. (3) With business prospering, his younger brother John joined the firm two years later and they adopted the name T. C. Power & Bro.

Soon they expanded their trade to many posts, among them Fort Peck, Fort Shaw, Fort Claggett, Badger Creek, Fort Belknap (Chinook), Helena, Lewistown and Belgrade in Montana Territory and to Fort Walsh, Fort Macleod and Fort Calgary in Canada. Many of the stores expanded their variety of stock to the point where Power could seriously boast they could provide "anything that can be provided in New York." (4)

In 1875 Power organized the Fort Benton "Block P" Line of river steamboats. The "Benton," "Black Hills," "Butte" and "Helena" navigated the Missouri River successfully until construction of the Utah and Northern Railroad, Union Pacific and Northern Pacific Railroads in Montana and the Canadian Pacific Railway across southern Canada in 1883 provided more efficient transportation bringing the steamboat era to an end.

In the first years of the Power operations the large trade in buffalo robes and wolf skins kept the prairie bull teams busy freighting supplies and hauling in the hides. With the decline of the buffalo about 1875, Power is credited with the idea of hauling coal from Fort Whoop-up (Lethbridge) to avoid deadheading empty wagons back to Fort Benton after dropping supplies at Fort Macleod and Fort Calgary. This also solved a difficult fuel problem for Fort Benton residents who had no timber stands nearby.

As early as 1881 changing conditions dictated that Power trade-off the Fort Macleod store to I. G. Baker & Company in exchange for their withdrawal from Fort Walsh.(5) Unexpectedly, the North-West Mounted Police moved their headquarters Depot to Regina and Fort Walsh was demolished in the Spring of 1883. T.C. Power & Bro. maintained their store at Calgary, but sold a few years later to D.W. Marsh, the store manager and a partner in the Canadian trading operations. With some necessary adjustments to business conditions, the American stores continued to operate for many years. The Fort Benton store was sold about 1933. The death of John Power in January, 1901 resulted in the incorporation of T.C. Power & Bro. Limited in March, 1902. Over the years T.C. Power & Bro. became influential property owners, cattlemen, bankers and a force in Montana political life. Thomas became a Senator in 1890 and died in 1923.

Fort Maginnis, where these tokens were issued, was located in central Montana at the eastern foot of the Judith Mountains, twenty-five miles northeast of the present city of Lewistown. This fort was established by Captain Dangerfield Parks in command of Company K of the 3rd Infantry on August 22, 1880. Of the supplies and equipment brought by the soldiers, much came from the site of Fort Logan, located to the west of Deep Creek, but then being abandoned. The construction of the Fort was largely the work of local civilian labor. It was garrisoned until 1890 or later but today only faint outlines of the foundations remain.

The continous flow of settlers had inexorably pushed the northern Indian tribes further and further west until Montana became their last hunting ground. From 1862 in Minnesota, the tribes had faced annual military campaigns intended to crush their resistance. With further retreat made impossible by the mining frontiers of southwestern Montana and Idaho, the Sioux and other tribes could see no choice but to make a last determined fight for their hunting grounds.

In the ensuing years, the Army had developed partly protected routes for the miners and settlers to use. The Minnesota-Montana Road and the Bozeman Trail were two of these. As more troops became available, a series of posts were constructed to encircle the Indians. These included Fort C. F. Smith (which the Sioux burned to the ground in 1868), Fort Benton, Fort Shaw, Fort Ellis, Fort Logan and Camp Baker. The wars of 1876 and 1877 succeeded in destroying the concentrated power of the Sioux and their allies, but roving bands continued to raid the settlers for cattle and horses. Now Fort Logan had given way to Fort Maginnis directly in the heart of Montana.

This Fort was named to honor Major Martin Maginnis, the famous Delegate to Congress from the Territory of Montana, who had demanded the establishment of a fort in this area to protect the settlers. Maginnis was born near Pultneyville, Wayne County, New York on October 27, 1841. The family moved to Minnesota in 1852. The young man attended Hamline University, but left to take charge of a newspaper. With Civil War, he enlisted as a private in the First Regiment, Minneapolis Volunteer Infantry, on April 18, 1861. An active career with the Army of the Potomac saw him commissioned after the first Battle of Bull Run, promoted to Major Martin Maginnis who sponsored Fort Maginnis the last of the frontier military posts for subjugation of the Indians. Credit, Montana Historical Society, Helena.

First Lieutenant in September, 1862, to Captain in July 1863. In September, 1864, he was appointed Major of the Eleventh Minnesota Volunteers under General Thomas in the Army of the Cumberland. He mustered out with his regiment in July, 1865.

Major Maginnis then moved to Helena in 1866, where he engaged in mining and subsequently in publishing and editing the Helena Daily Gazette. He was elected to Congress March 4, 1873 and served until March 3, 1885. During these years, Major Maginnis used his influence in every way possible for Montana's welfare. He assisted T. C. Power & Bro. and other Fort Benton firms to secure permits to ship goods from England or eastern Canada through the United States in bond, which was the key to successful competition with the Hudson's Bay Company in the western Canada prairies. Maginnis served as State Commissioner of mineral land from 1890-1893. After a distinguished career, Major Martin Maginnis died in Los Angeles, California on March 27, 1919 and was buried in Resurrection Cemetery at Helena.

The close association of the Fort Maginnis tokens of T.C. Power & Bro. with the early history of the Territory of Montana gives them special significance for anyone interested in western exonumia.

The author acknowledges the considerable assistance offered by Hugh Dempsey, Historian for the Glenbow Foundation, Calgary, Alberta; Mayor Robert L. Dissly of Lewistown, Montana; Joel F. Overholser, Editor, River Press, Fort Benton, Montana and The Montana Historical Association, Helena, Montana for information and permission to use their photographs.

4TH NEW JERSEY SUPPLEMENT

Damia Francis, TAMS #16

Of interest in this supplement is the card of the Dixon Crucible Co.

In his catalogue, Dr. B.P. Wright included two tokens of this company, both made of graphite. Wright #260 was issued for the Philadelphia Centennial Exposition of 1876. The other, Wright #1108, celebrated the Paris Exposition of 1878.

This third one, also of graphite and about the same size as the Wright tokens, does not mark an exposition and uses Dixon's first name, JOSEPH.

The Dixon Crucible Company is still in business in Jersey City. It was incorporated in New Jersey in 1868.

I would appreciate hearing from anyone who has information about these or other tokens of the Dixon Co.

A special thanks to Bill Clapper, who unearthed the new card and sent it my way.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

You will recognize the camera work of Syd Joseph. His fine photos add greatly to the catalogue as they did to the 3rd supplement in the October 1972 issue of the Journal.

I am very grateful to the many collectors who continue to take time in busy schedules to write about new Jersey items, send me tokens and do checking for me. My appreciation too, to busy dealers who remember the project by offering me tokens and sending their catalogues when New Jersey pieces are for sale. Without your help these supplements could not continue.

Extra thanks go to the following collectors who were especially helpful with this 4th supplement: Chriss Christiansen, Bill Clapper, Allen Corson, Jim Curto, David Gladfelter, Syd Joseph, Don Noe, Herb Weiss, Jack Wilcox and Al Zaika.

Washington's troops spent the cold winter of 1779-1780 in the Morristown area. The General and his wife stayed at the Jacob Ford home, now called Washington's Headquarters. His soldiers made-do with huts in neorby Jockey Hollow. A few officers found shelter in log cobins. One such formhouse, the Tempe Wick House, is better known for the story thot, in 1780, young Temperance Wick hid her horse in her bedroom to sove it from being taken by a mutinous Pennsylvonio Brigode.

A "NEW" 1913 OFFICIAL INAUGURAL MEDAL

George Fuld, TAMS #4

70mm.

An unreported precursor trial strike of the 1913 Woodrow Wilson official inaugural medal is noted herewith.

Dusterberg, in his excellent book on inaugural medals lists a regular 70mm. 1913 medal of Wilson, which is an increase from the 51mm. size issued for Taft and Sherman. A careful study of the obverse of this new 51mm. medal, in comparison to the regular 70mm. inaugural medal shows that the head of this peice is identical to the 70mm. type — but it is more in proportion to the head size. The 70mm. was made from this 51mm. hub by adding more shoulder and truncation to the well proportioned 51mm. size. In fact, examination of the "official" 70mm. size, the head is out of proportion to the size of the medal.

Undoubtly this 51mm. working die trial was made first (by an artist at Whitehead and Hoag), and rejected by the inaugural committee due to several possible reasons:

1) The portrait of T. R. Marshall was too prominent and equal to that of Wilson.

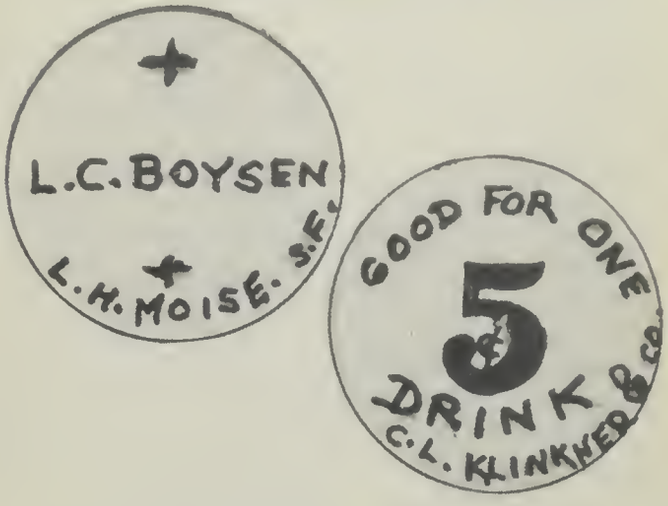
2) Since earlier medals were mostly about 51mm., the 70mm. piece gives greater prominence to the medals.

3) With time running short, the quickest way to get an official medal by March 4th was to change the 51mm. to 70mm. and engrave a new reverse.

We are happy to report that this unusual "die trial" of the Wilson Inaugural Medal now reposes in the Smithsonian courtesy of an anonymous donor. Our acknowledgement for discovery of this piece goes to Martin Jacobowitz who first recognized the importance of this medal and our thanks to Ernest Siegel and Milton Lynn for the excellent photographs.

THE DOUBLE "MINT MARK" TOKEN SAN FRANCISCO 1895

Richard F. Herberg, L.M. #19



Leonard C. Boysen operated a Saloon in old San Francisco from 1895 until the tragic year of 1906, at the Northeast Corner of 18th & Shotwell Streets, in the heart of the Mission district. The address of his establishment was number 3248-18th street. His first saloon was located at 120-15th street for less than a year when he moved into the 18th & Shotwell location and stayed there until 1906 when he evidently was wiped out by the disastrous Fire and Quake. There is no record of him after 1906.

The token he issued was probably used sometime from 1896 until 1906 and this token is most unusual to a collector because on the obverse it has in small letters at the bottom, "L.H. MOISE". S.F. On the reverse also at the bottom is "C.A. KLINKNER & Co." — two different token makers.

C.A. Klinkner operated in San Francisco from 1873 until 1892 when he passed away. Lionel Moise took over this firm in 1898 altho there is some evidence that he was connected with the C.A. Klinkner firm as early as 1895. It is definately known that "Moise-Klinkner Co." operated from 1898 until 1930 when Patrick and Co. bought them out and the three companies became "Patrick-Moise-Klinkner" until 1955. A new change was made then and it became the "Patrick & Co."

During all this time I doubt that any tokens were ever made with two company names on them. This "Double Mint Mark" must have occurred shortly after Moise took over the Klinkner company, probably in 1897 and is to me and other collectors, an extreme rarity. Evidently a new die was made for the obverse for L.C. Boysen with L.H. Moise on it. The reverse used was a standard good for one 5¢ drink die of the old C.L. Klinkner firm. This token is a Maverick but to me a very rare and unusual San Francisco trade token.

A Place Index for Curto's Military Tokens of the United States.

Patrick D. Hogan, TAMS #2412

James J. Curto's catalog of military tokens has provided the token-collecting fraternity with a well-arranged and comprehensive catalog of this form of exonumia. The tokens are listed in various sections according to the type of military institution, or militarily-related institution, to which they can be classified.

The book has only one weakness; it does not contain an index. It is therefore difficult for specialistic token-collectors to use. Collectors of exonumia often specialize in certain states or nations. The user of this book can only locate tokens that were used in his state by thumbing through the entire book. To alleviate this minor problem, herewith is presented an index of the military tokens by state, nation or other political entity. This list does not pretend to be perfect. The compiler has followed Curto's identifying remarks on the listed tokens. On most of them he gives the geographical location in parenthesis. On some that he does not, the location is self-apparent from the legend on the token. For those which have neither location indicated in the catalog, I have not indexed it. Some of these places may be easily identified, such as "Columbus Barracks," but the compiler leaves these in the "maverick" category.

It is hoped that this index will be useful to readers.

Listing Guide:
Airfields and related (A), Arsenals (Ar), Barracks (B), Camps (C), Forts (F), Hospitals (H), Miscellaneous (not specifically related to any of the other areas) (M), Naval (N), Post Canteens (PC), Post Exchanges (PX), Post Traders (PT), Regimental (R), Service Clubs (SC) Veteran Homes, etc. (V).

*Naval tokens are issued at naval bases and also on ships. The compiler has included ships named after states or cities under their respective states.

Stephen Alpert, TAMS #2134, 11106 National Blvd., Los Angeles, CA 90064 is working on a catalog of amusement tokens. He would appreciate having collectors send him any rubbings or descriptions of unusual ones that you have so that they might be included.

SELDOM SEEN TOKENS

Melvin Fuld, TAMS #5

BRIDGEPORT, CT.

Ob. At top, in Hebrew "SHOLEM," in Latin "PRUDENS," in Chinese "RICHNESS"; an "S" to the right. Within a solid circle bearded bust to front. Border of dots.

Rx. Around * HEALTH * WISDOM * WEALTH * An "S" to right as on obverse. Within a solid circle same bust as on obverse. Border of dots.

METAL: Brass. SIZE: 31.0mm. ISSUED: 1960's. RARITY: 4.

This piece is known as the TOKEN OF FAITH and was issued by Sherms, Inc. Bridgeport, CT.

This token was sent in by several TAMS members who all inquired its meaning which is as follows:

"From—The beginning of Time—Man has sought—"SHOLEM" The token of Faith! Down—Thru the ages . . . 'man' . . . would pick up an odd bit of stone . . . or an animal tooth . . . and cherish it . . . "IT WILL BRING LUCK. . ." AND—Never Before—in the Realms of Good 'luck' Charms—was Ever Created—such—an ingenious—Original—Unique coin design—as in "sholem." Incorporated—Into "sholem" we have three of the most ancient languages in the World. "Sholem" in Hebrew which means peace . . . contentment. Prudence . . . in Latin which means Wisdom. And . . . the Chinese text . . . which means . . . rich . . . Richness! Plus—The English wording . . . in Health, Wisdom and Wealth.

Hidden in the design is the secret message. . . "I Give You" AND—By pressing a certain "s" spot—the coin opens disclosing a hollow space inside—where a small photo or message can be concealed."

The above quotes are from a pamphlet that comes with the piece.

The "S" is fully protected in trade mark—design and mechanical construction by Sherms, Inc.

RE: PONTIAC BUGGY COMPANY TOKEN

Article by Melvin Fuld, "SELDOM SEEN TOKENS" TAMS-JOURNAL - Volume 13, No. 4, Part 1, August 1973, Page 149

George C. Stenson, TAMS #1877

As a former resident of Pontiac, Michigan, and an employee of the Pontiac Post Office for over 40 years until I retired in Jan. 1969, perhaps I can cast some light on Mr. Fulds' questions regarding this token.

During the middle and latter part of the 19th Century, Pontiac was the shopping center for a prosperous agricultural area. In 1877, Pontiac's population of about 4000 supported three newspapers, two banks, about 60 mercantile establishments, five hotels, and various blacksmiths, gunsmiths, mills, foundries and small factories.

Perhaps the most important single development during this period was the expansion of the carriage industry. Like many communities of its size, Pontiac had been producing carriages and wagons for local trade for some years.

In 1886, the local citizens, at the instigation of Charles Vleit Taylor, collected funds to help build a factory to make carriages for wholesale distribution. Taylor conducted a successful enterprise, and his success encouraged others such as Robert D. Scott, Oliver J. Beaudette and Edward M. Murphy to build carriage and buggy factories.

By 1894, although only 25th in population in the state, ranked sixth as a center of carriage and wagon manufacturing. By 1900, carriage making provided employment for about three-fourths of the city's male workers.

But this picture was soon to be altered by a development which has since influenced the entire life of the city and its environs. In 1900, Martin Halfpenny made the first self-propelled vehicle to be produced in Pontiac, and during the next decade several infant concerns were developed.

In 1904, the Welch Brothers transferred their operations from Chelsea to Pontiac and opened the Welch Motor Car Company. Rapid Motor Company moved from Detroit, and Byron J. Carter from Jackson began producing the Carter car here.

In August of 1907, Edward M. Murphy decided to move into the automotive field and founded the Oakland Motor Car Company. With the rise and fall of the Cartercar, Engler, Flanders, Friend, Monroe and Oakland, all at one time produced in Pontiac, the fortunes of Pontiac also rose and fell.

The Oakland Motor Car Company, The Rapid Motor Company and the Cartercar Company were purchased by General Motors Corporation in 1909, and thus Pontiac joined Flint as a General Motors Town.

I might add this bit of information for the collectors: The first Pontiac automobile was produced in 1926. The Pontiac really caught on, and soon outstripped the Oakland in sales. Because of this, production of the Oakland was halted in the early thirties, and in 1932 the Oakland Motor Car Company became the Pontiac Motor Company.

The first "Silver Streak" model was introduced about the time that Father Coughlin's weekly radio broadcasts were reaching nearly 35 million people. Pontiac's first "Torpedo" model came out in 1940, and 1953 was the year Pontiac introduced the "Dual Streaks" models.

But to return to the Pontiac Buggy Company Token.

In 1900, Pontiac's main industries were textiles and buggy and wagon making. But mainly, Pontiac was a buggy building town.

Chief Pontiac was the leader of the Ottawa Indian Tribe, and although they lived and roamed throughout the southeastern part of the state, the Village of Pontiac was more or less their center of habitat. The Village of Pontiac, was of course, named after Chief Pontiac.

So it seems only natural to assume, that the bust of the Indian was that of Chief Pontiac and that this token was struck sometime in the late 1800's or early 1900's.

To return to buggy building, O.J. Beaudette, was of course, the biggest of them all. But he called his buggy works the O.J. Beaudette Company, "producer of fine carriages and sleigh wagons."

Another successful buggy manufacturer was H.M. Linabury. He produced the "Pontiac Phaeton and three thousand vehicles of superb quality came from his shop each year. I have been unable to determine the name of his company, but as the producer of the "Pontiac Phaeton", it also seems logical to assume his company could have been the Pontiac Buggy Co.

And as the Western Amesbury Line does not seem to be listed in any of the various "Token Books", I am again going to assume that the Western Amesbury Line was one of the many wagon freight or delivery lines, with Pontiac as its main office or headquarters.

Correction

Gordon Z. Greene, TAMS #741, President of the Numismatic Association of Southern California, reports a correction for the Seldom Seen Tokens by Melvin Fuld on page 149 of the August issue of the TAMS Journal. The reverse of the Equitable Savings and Loan Association medal carries the initials "GZG" and not as stated. They are Mr. Greene's initials who designed the medal himself in 1968, and 1000 only were struck by Annillo.

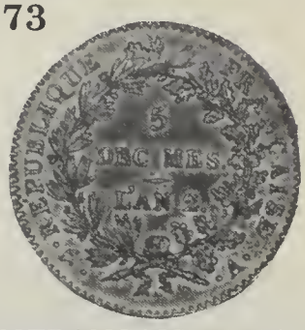
An Obscure Medallic Coin of the French Revolution

Howard H. Kurth
TAMS #73



Obverse, "REGENERATION FRANCAISE," with, "10 AOUT 1793," in the exergue. Seated figure of Isis, the Egyptian Goddess of Fecundity, replenishes the foundation of knowledge with streams from her breasts. In front of the fountain a young man offers a libation to a senior citizen. At the base of the pedestal is the engraver's signature — "DUPRE".

Reverse, "REPUBLIQUE FRANCAISE". Within a wreath of laurel and oak is the denomination and date," 5/DECIMES/LAN 2". Below are the mintmarks — liberty cap, and "A" (Paris).

Edge, "EGALITE • LIBERTE • INDIVISIBILITE •," in incused lettering. 35mm bronze or bell metal.

The obverse is suggestive of the beautiful historical and alegorical tokens, or "medailles de confiance," designed by Dupre for Monneron Brothers and other merchants of Paris. These were described by O.P. Eklund in the "Numismatist" of Feb. 1932.

The date "Aug. 10, 1973" may possibly refer to the dedication of the fountain — if indeed such a foundation ever did exist.

The coin was described in the "American Journal of Numismatics" 1886 page 29, and was illustrated by a line drawing on page 1. The piece is not common. It is not mentioned in Scott's old copper catalogues, nor in Eklund's listing.

Whether it should be considered a medal coin or pattern is open to question. In any case it seems of interest and worthy of notice.

PINAL CITY, ARIZONA

Sam Michael, TAMS #2754

Token collecting is an extremely enjoyable hobby, but the researching of these coins of early merchants can be just as exciting.

While walking over the long-abandoned site of Old Pinal City, in Southern Arizona, I picked up an early trade token that was to start me on a very educational experience.

The token read: GOOD FOR/1/DRINK/AT THE PALACE/P.B.GRAHAM/PROP.

Although I didn't know at that time what town it was from or how old it was, it was my first trade token, and I was pleased to find it. Later, I found the Arizona Pioneers Historical Society in Tuscon had Newspapers from old Pinal City. Leafing through the Pinal Drill I was glad to find that my token was from Pinal City.

Mr. Graham must have been quite an enterprising man. In an article dated 1881, Mr. Graham proclaimed that he was building the largest and most elegant Hotel / Saloon in the area. An advertisement in 1884 stated that the Saloon was stocked with the finest wines, whiskeys and cigars from San Francisco.

It is a pity, but the Palace didn't stay that way long. Around 1890 or 1891, Pinal City, the smelter town for the Great Silver King Mine was completely abandoned. All that remains of the Palace is a large basement-like hole dug in solid rock.

By using early descriptions and pictures from the Arizona Pioneers Historical Society I was able to locate the exact site of the Palace, and judging by the broken liquor bottles it must have been a "busy" place.

Welcome

The Philadelphia Token and Medal Society issues a cordial invitation to everyone to attend their meetings. They are held on the first Tuesday of each month beginning at 7:30 P.M. at 7048 Castor Avenue in a savings and loan building. They ask you to come swap, trade or sell. Future dates are: November 6th, December 4th of 1973. There is no January meeting, but they resume on February 5th, March 5th, April 2nd, May 7th, June 4th and July 2nd of 1974.

Daniel N. Rusnak, LM37, reports that the mail bid sale of the TAMS Journals, Volumes 1-4, advertised in the June issue brought $53.

"MAVERICKS"

The number of identified tokens is growing rapidly. Many of the identifications are accompanied by interesting historical notes. These are very interesting and are recorded, it is impractical to print them all in full. They are appreciated.

Early identification is appreciated as the deadline for each issue is a month before publication, to give the printers time to work. Identifications received after the deadline must be held for the next issue.

To send in descriptions for identification, please print plainly or type if practical. This avoids errors. Use the same format as the published tokens and please check the size, shape and metal. Then send to Mrs. Lewis K. Ferguson; 1605 Roosevelt Ave. Ames, Iowa 50010.

Lewis L. Egnew says: Both Alasko & Wash. There were used by North Western Commercial Co. at Chignik & Nushagak, Alasko in canneries. They had a home office in Seattle. They were last used at the canneries around 1915. Were supposedly returned to Seattle to be destroyed, but were apparently bought up & used by the North Western Candy Co. & used along with their other tokens. Several Types & varieties are known.
J. Blake Godfrey says: This token is often confused with one from Alaska. Actually it is the Northwest Candy Co., Seattle or Everett, Wash. Vending token.

THE LIBRARIAN REPORTS

We are grateful to our members and friends who donate books and other publications to our Library. Occasionally we receive material which is numismatic in nature, but outside our field of Exonumia. My home area for storing such materials is overtaxed; so of necessity, may I ask that donations will be of material directly concerned with tokens, medals, scrip, wooden money, orders and decorations, or other exonumia? Other numismatic literature might better be donated to the A.N.A. Library, which covers all facets of numismatics. Our thanks for material received and listed in this issue go to Max M. Schwartz, Peter Bruce Walton, Donald Punshon, Grover Criswell, Charles L. Jason, Jr., Walter Caldwell, Chester F. Clark, Rita and Ray Nadreau, Canadian Association of Token Collectors, and Joseph A. Lowande (for Society of Ration Token Collectors).

REPORT OF THE EDITOR

The six regular issues of the TAMS Journal produced revenue of $1444.12 in advertising. This is broken down into the following:

October 1972	$200.96
December 1972	320.80
February 1973	162.00
April 1973	247.04
June 1973	354.68
August 1973	158.64

In addition to the regular issues, a bonus edition of Game Counters appeared with the December issue; Texas Trade Tokens appeared with the April issue; and Kolb appeared with this last August issue.

Game Counter editions sold separately by me netted $362.50 in addition to the over 200 new members we received directly from this bonus issue. Fine trade publication stories on this issue are directly responsible for the big sales and the addition of all the new members.

The first of each month preceeding publication is the deadline for last minute advertising. Please remember other material must be received in advance of this. I work on a schedule set up for the whole year which not only includes my work, but the typesetting, corrections and negatives, and printing and mailing. Thus all of us must work on schedule in order for the Journal to be mailed at the proper time.

At this moment there are no articles for the October issue except one. It is most important that a backlog of articles for the Journal be on tap for use as the space permits.

Respectfully submitted,
VIRGINIA CULVER

Due to the fact that the Treasury Department has all Casino's using Ike dollars, we have a limited number of Keiths Casino Tokens for sale. They are all uncirculated Tokens and the only Casino Tokens that are a commemorative Token. These are golden-bronze and when sold no more will be struck of the golden-bronze. We thank you for your order of 2 or more Tokens.

Bonanza Mining & Milling Co., Winnemucca, Nevada 89445.

Please send me two of Ketho uncirculated Casino Tokens for the total price of $4.00.

PACKAGE DEAL OF

GREATEST HISTORICAL EVENTS

We have the privilege of presenting to the callectors af the world three of the Greatest Histarical Events in sequence as they happened. First, the Birth of Christ, December 25, 1, A.D.; second, Charlie taking legal passessian of the Moon, December 17, 1968; and third, Man's landing of the Maon, July 20, 1969.

We are naw presenting these twa medals in beautiful galden branze and exact copies of Charlie's legal recording at Winnemucca, Nevada. This first recording of Moanshine Valley of 10,000 square miles is indeed a masterpiece and warld wide news at the time is the greatest collectors item of all time. His second recarding when he took legal passession of the balance of the Moon is plenty good too. In fact, Charlie is the first and anly one to legally awn the Moon. At the present time we are including in this package deal ta yau, a deed to one acre of beautiful Maanshine Valley personally signed by the Sole Gaverning Bady, Charlie. Perhaps you may want Charlie to personally autograph your legal recordings. Send yaur first name and we will catch him between his prospecting trips and have him do so. Your two medals are autographed by Charlie.

You may record your deed in your own lacal courthause if you wish. There are nat taxes.

We will accept all InterBank cards including Mastercharge and BankAmericard. Please state whether Bank of America or Master Charge. Delay for personal check clearing. Total package deal $10.00.
